

Give Employees a More Rewarding Relocation Experience

Upgrade Your Lump Sum Program With CoPilot Express™

Lump sum relocation programs can be cost-effective and easy to administer — until something goes wrong. When an employee has trouble relocating, even after receiving funds, it can quickly become a challenging situation for the company.

While employer and employee attitudes about relocation support have been changing, the experience of relocating with a lump sum payment is still a stressful process and can lead to unintended consequences.

That's why NuCompass, a leader in full-service relocation programs, created CoPilot Express. It's a digital platform specifically designed for companies offering lump sum payments. Why CoPilot Express?

- It's great for employers. Your company still has an easy-to-administer, cost-effective program that offers the flexibility that relocating employees want along with better support, payment tracking, and an improved employee experience.
- It's great for employees. Relocating employees get the flexibility of instant lump-sum payments coupled with direct access to trusted suppliers, cash rebates, live chat support, and guidance to make their relocation experience a breeze.

Don't leave your employees to fend for themselves during a trying relocation process. With CoPilot Express, you can upgrade your lump sum program without having to offer a full-service relocation.

How CoPilot Express™ Works

Employees follow three easy steps to unlock the power of their upgraded lump sum relocation.

1 Get Prepared

Most employees don't know where to start or what services they might need. CoPilot Express guides employees through a personalized experience that identifies their relocation needs and directly connects them with the same trusted and vetted partners that NuCompass uses for relocation. CoPilot Express also offers incentives and cash back for common services like buying and selling a home, household goods, or auto shipping.

2 Get Paid

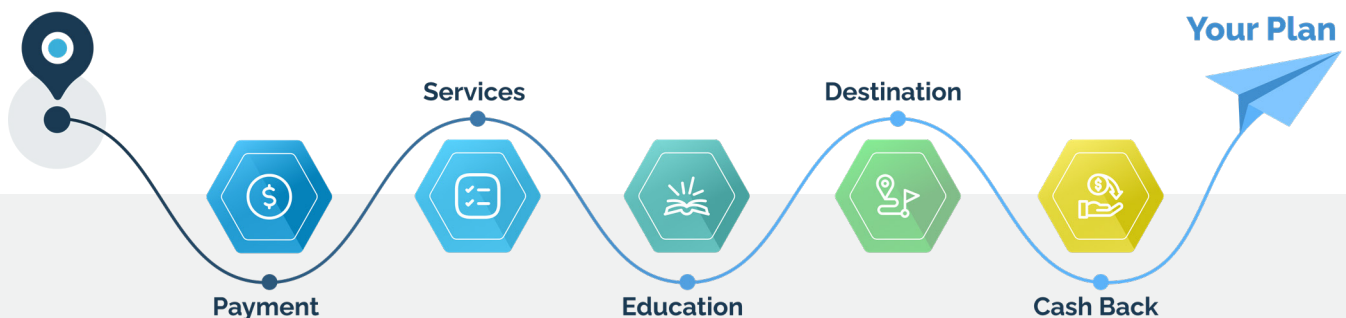

CoPilot Express collects the employee's banking information and gets them paid quickly, with funds available via real-time payment. The funds are deposited into the employee's account, and calculations like gross-up and tax withholdings are always incorporated.

3 Get the Plan

Most people only move a handful of times in their lifetime. CoPilot Express provides a customized plan summary with everything your employees need in one place:

- Destination information
- Educational articles, tips, and checklists
- Payment status
- Cash rebate information
- Summary of all service requests
- Supplier contact information

CoPilot Express creates a more rewarding relocation and a better employee experience for an affordable price.
